Aditya Prasetyo Wins 3rd WSOPC Ring, $19,600 & Secures Seat in Casino Global Championship

Baltimore, MD (4 April 2016) – Event 10: $580 No Limit Hold'em kicked off on Day 2 of the Main Event and drew 144 entrants to one of the higher buy-ins of the series. Nine players returned for Day 2 after nine hours of play Aditya Prasetyo won his third WSOPC gold ring, locked up his seat in the Global Casino Championship and pocketed $19,600.

"I'm feeling pretty good because I wasn't going to even come here," Prasetyo said. "I came because I'm close on points for the Global Casino Championship and wanted to gain a few extra points. I have 125 points and came right down after Atlantic City series."

"I bricked the first few events, then I blew four bullets in the Main Event - so I was pretty down and getting ready to leave," he added. "I knew I needed some points to be safe. When I made the money I felt pretty good and the final table locked up the seat for me. I'm pretty happy."

"He almost had me. I was down really low and it feels great to come back and win it," Prasetyo continued. "He (Belz) is a pretty solid player. I had him on the ropes seven-handed and he won a flip to me my jacks with [Ax,Qx]. It was a lot of trading back and forth. It definitely wasn't an easy heads-up match."

The final hand saw Ryan Belz move all in preflop holding pocket nines and Aditya Prasetyo called holding [Jd,Tc]. The board ran [Td,4s,2c,Kh,Qs], Prasetyo paired his ten and took down the final pot to win his third career WSOPC gold ring.

Ari Engel returned short on chips for Day 2 and a week after winning his 8th WSOPC ring, he came up short and busted in eighth place. He picked up his fifth cash on 2015/16 Circuit – all of which have been final tables.

Satish Surapaneni earned his third cash in Baltimore this season and made his second final table during this stop. He finished fifth in Event 1 for $43,637.
