Lena Evans Takes Down the Turbo for First Circuit Ring

Philanthropist flies in to play one event and takes it down for first career ring

Lena Evans flew in on the final day of the series to play the final Circuit ring event at Planet Hollywood. "My intention was fully to take a ring home with me" explained Evans. She did just that, after winning Event #14 $365 No-Limit Hold'em Turbo for $13,122 and a brand-new gold World Series of Poker Circuit ring.

The former professional blackjack player turned philanthropist plays poker as a hobby and a passion. By day, she is best known for her charity work and has won many awards for her efforts. "My life's work is charity. I love the community of poker - it's such an interesting subculture. I get to interact with people I would never normally get the opportunity to hang out with. It's really like a family."

Evans has been predominantly a cash game player for 10 years and a year ago to this day, she turned her focus to tournaments. Her immediate success has combined her love for traveling and for the game of poker. Evans runs charity poker tournaments and events to promote the game and to give back in fulfilling ways.
