

2020 World Series of Poker

Mystery Bounty Event

$1,000,000 in Mystery Bounties Up for Grabs,
With One Bounty Worth $250,000

Sunday, June 28 at 11:00 AM

The 2020 World Series of Poker will offer a new event, the $1,500 Mystery Bounty No-Limit Hold'em Tournament. This event is similar to a typical bounty tournament – every player will be a bounty – but the major difference is not all bounties will have the same value.

There will be 100 “Mystery” bounties. Each one will be worth at least $2,500 and could be worth as much as $250,000. The total value of the “mystery” bounties will be $1,000,000. All other bounties, the “standard” bounties, will be worth $100.

Remaining funds go to the regular prize pool paid out based on finish and pay out the standard 15% of the field size.

Here is the breakdown of available “Mystery” bounties:

Bounty Amount	# of Prizes
$250,000	1
$100,000	3
$25,000	6
$10,000	10
$2,500	80
Totals: $1,000,000	100

The event will utilize the freezeout format.

The structure sheet and additional details about this event will be available prior to the event's start.
