LOUISE QUINTANA TAKES DOWN SENIORS II EVENT

Edmond, Oklahoma's Quintana earns $10,851 and a ring in special Seniors event

Louise Quintana has triumphed in the unofficial ring event $250 No-Limit Hold'em Seniors II at Circuit Hard Rock Tulsa. The victory in this event for players age 50 and up was worth $10,851 and brought Quintana her first career Circuit title.

It's the largest WSOP payday for the 63-year-old Quintana, which was part of a family poker affair on Sunday at Hard Rock Tulsa. Louise's husband Albert made the money in the ongoing Main Event, eventually busting in 25th. However, there's more to that tale. Louise won two Main Event seats via qualifying satellites earlier in the series. She was required to play the first won herself, but transferred the second one to Albert. Meanwhile, Louise busted from the Main Event on Day 1, though she more than made up for that by entering and winning the Seniors II special event on Sunday.

Louise has more poker experience than her foes might realize, too: She's won three separate Colorado Poker Championships events before she and Albert relocated to Oklahoma.
