Cameron Mitchell is the Rio Black Chip Bounty Champ

Cameron Mitchell is the champion of the Rio Las Vegas Circuit $600 Black Chip Bounty event. Mitchell outlasted a 214-player field to earn the top payout of $22,201 and his first career WSOP Circuit ring. In addition, Mitchell collected 10 bounties, including his own to net another $1,000.

"It feels really good," said Mitchell. "I have been putting in a lot time studying, working on my game and it feels like it's coming together."

Mitchell works in sales and is from Juneau, Alaska. He said that he is considering moving to Las Vegas to open up more opportunities to play in poker tournaments.

"I really enjoy the game. I enjoy playing it as a recreational player and I like playing with pro level players," said Mitchell.

This marked Mitchell's 5th career WSOP cash and is his largest ever WSOP cash. Last summer, Mitchell cashed in $1,500 Omaha Mix event at the World Series of Poker for $5,252. He plans on playing in some WSOP events again this summer and enjoys events that include Big O. He also is considering playing in the Main Event this year.

"We play a lot of Big O back home and it's just a really fun game," said Mitchell.

Big O or hold'em, Las Vegas or Juneau, Mitchell has proven he can hang with anyone on the felt.
