MORGAN HAYES GRABS LADIES EVENT RING

27-year-old amateur Hayes tops 83-entry field for $2,656 payday and first career Circuit ring

Twenty-seven-year-old Morgan Hayes, a bartender and amateur poker player from Tuscaloosa, Alabama, has emerged as the winner of the special $135 No-Limit Hold'em Ladies Event at Circuit Horseshoe Tunica. The win, the first of Hayes' WSOP career, was worth $2,656.

Hayes has played a handful of Circuit events, though her only previous Circuit cash was in the same event in January's series in Tunica. This time she finished the process, rolling over the final table on the way to the win.

Speaking of rings, Hayes is engaged. Her fiance, Alabama Circuit regular BJ McBrayer, was playing just feet away on a table adjacent to the final-table stage on main floor of the room, where the stop's main event is ongoing. (Hayes' victory celebration had to pause for a few moments, as McBrayer was all in in a hand as Hayes wrapped up her win. McBrayer also owns a Circuit ring, so the two can share bragging rights as they plan a future of wedded and poker-playing bliss.
