BOB RICCIUTI WINS 1ST RING IN EVENT 3 AT FOXWOODS

Grinder and fan favorite locks up his first six-figure score

After a long battle, Bob Ricciuti finally locked up his first World Series of Poker Circuit ring and first six-figure cash in Event #3: #600 No-Limit Hold'em. Ricciuti had a big rail behind him for the last few days, eventually watching him earn a massive $134,413, which put his lifetime earnings over $500,000.

"I have a reputation for being bitter because I've been around a long time and I've never gotten a big payday. People that know me know the real me. They'll see you when you're busting a tournament, and the whole world is looking at you at your weakest moment. So, it feels like vindication. It feels really nice," said an emotional Ricciuti.

Ricciuti said he felt as though he was forced into becoming a professional poker player after his family faced some health issues. "For the first couple of years I was playing professionally we were struggling. My daughter was young. But here I am 13 years later and I'm still grinding it out. I'm always fighting for my life – I'm fighting for my family," said Ricciuti.
