Brett Apter Wins Harrah's Vegas High Roller

The second day of the World Series of Poker Circuit $2,200 High Roller at Harrah's Las Vegas came to an end and when the dust settled it was WSOP bracelet winner Brett Apter who became the latest gold ring winner after topping a field of 86 entries. Apter, who captured his second gold ring of the year, overcame a tough lineup to take home the $52,084 first-place prize.

"I'm feeling on top of the world," Apter said after his victory, "I'm so passionate about this game, I love it."

Apter came into the final table tied for third in chips with 380,000 and gradually built his stack from there. It was another long day but the newest ring winner found a way to close it out bringing his WSOP earnings to over $700K.

"Somehow I get really lucky that I have my friends here when I win as well, it's honestly the best feeling in the world," he added.
