ETHAN YAU GRABS THIRD GOLD RING

Ethan Yau grabs third WSOP ring with win in $2,200 High Roller

Ethan "Rampage" Yau just won the $2,200 High Roller event at the Bicycle Casino World Series of Poker Circuit. The 24-year-old Youtuber from Boston, Massachusetts, finished third in the $600 No-Limit Hold'em event three days ago, and built on his previous success with a win in the second to last event of the series.

"It feels good; I'm happy to win it. It's one of those things, I have final tabled a lot of these, and I'm always really upset if I don't close it out so it's nice to be able to close it out and get some more hardware," said Yau after his High Roller win.

The 24-year-old has only played poker for three years, and started playing more seriously after watching well-known poker YouTubers Andrew Neeme and Brad Owen. The poker vloggers inspired Yau to start his own Youtube channel, and he now has more than 136,000 subscribers.

Yau has also been red hot at the poker table lately, and tonight's win was the Boston natives third ring in less than three months. He ended 2021 by taking down the $300 No-Limit Hold'em Last Chance event at the WSOP Circuit Series in Aruba, and continued by winning the $2,000 Super High Roller in the WSOP Online series two weeks ago.

But despite his latest success, Yau is hungry for more.

"Growing up, my idol was Tom Brady, and I think he has seven rings now, so I'm going to go for seven to match him," said the latest WSOP Champion.

Yau outlasted a field of 80 entrants on his way to victory to earn $49,530 and his third WSOP Circuit gold ring. He also earns a seat in the Tournament of Champions, held in Las Vegas in the summer of 2022.
