ALAN BLAGMAN WINS 1st CIRCUIT RING AT TURNING STONE

Production tech from Pennsylvania books his biggest score in New York

In just a single day, Alan Blagman is the winner of his first World Series of Poker Circuit ring in Event #8: $400 No-Limit Hold'em 8-Max for $29,683 and a seat into the Tournament of Champions in July.

"It feels amazing," smiled Blagman. The newly crowned champion has been playing poker for over 25 years and can now enjoy his biggest achievement. This is his biggest cash, first WSOP Circuit ring and first tournament win.

"I fell in love with the game, and when I realized I had an aptitude for it I devoted more time to it. Then I retired and I played a lot more." Blagman retired from being a zamboni driver for the New York Rangers, and now hopes to make a final table in Las Vegas this coming summer at the World Series.
