John McMahan Wins First Circuit Ring in Event #1

McMahan wins first Circuit ring and earns second WSOP cash

McMahan's first gold circuit ring. He defeated Dan Lowery heads up to claim his first ring.

"I was not the best player at this table. I was the worst player. I just got good cards," McMahan said, "This was a Jamie Gold moment."

McMahan added that he would have been happy to min-cash this event. The 69-year-old Tulsan doesn't travel the whole circuit, mostly staying in the Oklahoma and Missouri area. McMahan did travel to Las Vegas recently to go through what he called a "poker boot camp" where he played seven tournaments in 12 days to prepare for the circuit at the Hard Rock.

"The players here are tough. We're blessed in Tulsa, we have a lot of good players," he said.

This is only his second WSOP cash. He finished second in a circuit main in 2007 for $268,858. He plans on playing all the rest of the events for this circuit series.

"I'll play them all until I burn out," he said.
